

Hydrogen-rich Cup

User's Manual

Product Description

The hydrogen-rich water cup is a fashion office and household product. The designers combined the mobile phone wireless charging function + drinking water + hydrogen-rich function together, intelligent identification, automatic switching, simple operation, and multiple functions in one machine.

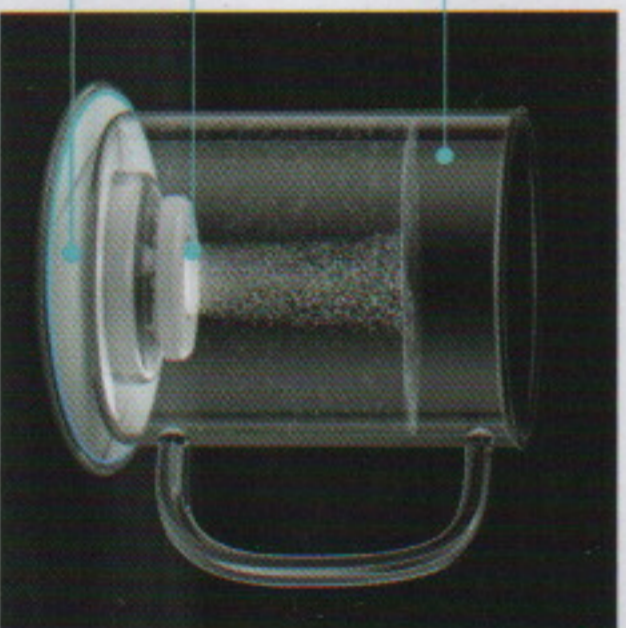

It solves the two major problems of mobile phone wireless charging and drinking healthy water, and brings great convenience to life and work at home.

Part Name

Cup body

Electrolysis sheet

Wireless charging base

How to produce hydrogen?

the base will light up

Show blue light when it working

After plugging in the power, the base will light up, and the light will turn green after two seconds, and the base will keep the green light in standby mode

Put the hydrogen-rich cup on middle position of the wireless charging base, the base light will turn to blue, start produce hydrogen, the base light suddenly bright and dark.

(Put the phone in the middle of the base, blue light bright to start charging, Note: Only phones that support wireless charging can be charged).

